

I don't want the FCC to implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law. Since I've signed up with the Indiana attorney general's office no call list my telemarketers calls have gone from 2 per day (sales calls) to 2 in six months (political calls) and I appreciate not being interrupted by people I have no intention of buying from and have no interest in. I know where to look for advertisements if I want them.
